Dear Commissioner Henney:

I strongly oppose the irradiation of food. I believe it is the responsibility of companies to keep their plants clean. I urge you not to proceed with approving radiation of food but if you do give those who oppose the option not to eat such food by labeling them.

Irradiated foods need to carry a prominent disclosure, in easy-to-read type, on the front of the package. Consumers need to be able to identify irradiated foods at the supermarket and in restaurants.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Victoria Gammello
